Castle Rock veterinary hospital sponsors K-9 Friends gala

Veterinary Specialists of the Rockies is this year's Howling Good Time Platinum Sponsor

Castle Rock, Colorado (September 8, 2022) – As a long-time supporter of this annual event, Veterinary Specialists of the Rockies recently announced it would step up as the Platinum Sponsor for this year's Howling Good Time gala. The event will be held by Friends of Douglas County K-9 on Thursday, September 22 from 5:30 to 9:00 PM at the Cielo Events Center at Castle Pines. All proceeds go to support the Douglas County Sheriff's Office K-9 Unit.

"When we heard that the Platinum Sponsorship was open this year, we didn't think twice about taking this on, especially with the Douglas County Sheriff's Office working on their new K-9 Unit training center," said Hospital Administrator Tammi Morrison. While the DCSO funds vehicles and deputies' salaries, community donations fund nearly all of the DCSO K-9 Unit's costs, as well as medical care and support for retired dogs.

"Veterinary Specialists of the Rockies has been going to this event for years. It's not only a fun and inspirational evening, but the money that's brought in supports the amazing dogs in the unit," Morrison said. "We even get to meet some of the hero dogs we support which is always one of the highlights of the night."

Veterinary Specialists of the Rockies has been a sponsor for this event for the last three years, as well as for other local non-profits such as Denver Dumb Friends League and Douglas County schools. "When we started Veterinary Specialists of the Rockies four years ago, we envisioned a hospital that provides the best care possible for pets and is also an active part of the Castle Rock community," said Dr. Megan Rector, hospital owner. "We are proud to be able to support amazing organizations like K-9 Friends."

Tickets for the September 22nd event can be purchased on the K-9 Friends website <https://k9friends.org/gala/2022.html>.
